Same Lineup, Same Result

Sounders FC head coach Sigi Schmid has started the same lineup in back-to-back games just twice this season. The consistency in the Starting XI has proved successful for Seattle. Schmid started the same group that earned a scoreless draw in Vancouver and captured a 3-0 victory over the Timbers. Previously this season, Schmid used the starting lineup from the 2-1 road win in Colorado to capture a 4-0 home win over the LA Galaxy. When starting the same lineup in back-to-back games, Seattle is 3-0-1 with nine goals scored and one goal allowed. Overall, Schmid has used 30 different starting lineups in 33 games this season. Twenty-five different starters have been used, and 28 of 33 available players have appeared throughout the season.

Montero has set the standard for Sounders FC. So far this season, the young striker became the first Sounders FC player to appear in 100 matches for the club and became the first to 40 MLS goals with his tally vs. LA. The 2009 MLS Newcomer of the Year scored Seattle's first goal in MLS and the club's first international goal with his long-range strike against Metapan in 2010. Over the past three seasons, Montero is the third-leading goal scorer in MLS with 47 goals and he is the only player to rank in the top 10 in both goals and assists since 2009.

Johnson & Johnson

Eddie Johnson's return to the US National Team was impactful as the Seattle striker netted two goals and one assist in his two matches, including the winning goal against Antigua and winning assist against Guatemala.

It had been two years to the day since Eddie Johnson's last appearance with the US National Team. Last friday, Johnson made the start for Jurgen Klinsmann's side and knocked in a header off a cross from Graham Zusi to give the US the 1-0 lead over Antigua. The goal marked his first tally for the US since June 15, 2008. Johnson later headed in the 90th minute winner for his second goal of the night and 14th overall.

It was Johnson's second multi-goal game for the US. He netted a hat trick in his second appearance for the Stars and Stripes on October 13, 2004 in a 6-0 win over Panama. He now has 10 career goals in World Cup qualifying matches, tying him with Brian McBride and Clint Demsey for second on the all-time list.

Leading the Way

For me right now, he's the Goalkeeper of the Year in this league. I think he's the goalkeeper that's been the most consistent. When you look at our record when he's played, I don't think there's a goalkeeper that can match that record.
– Coach Sigi Schmid, 10/17/12

Michael Gspurning has burst onto the MLS scene with a stellar first season in Seattle's nets. The Austrian netminder leads all MLS goalkeepers with a 0.72 goals against average, and he could become the first goalkeeper from outside of the CONCACAF region to lead MLS in single-season goals against average. He also leads the league with a .725 winning percentage (12-3-5).

Gspurning's importance to the Seattle squad was highlighted when he was forced to miss matches due to injury. Gspurning has started 20 games for Seattle this season, helping the team earn 41 of its 56 points for an average of over two points per match. When he does not start, Sounders FC averages 1.15 points per match with a record of 3-4-6. The six-foot-five keeper just saw his 370-minute shutout streak come to an end, good for third best in franchise history.

Last Match: Sounders FC 3 vs. FC Dallas 1

Brad Evans scored twice to lead Seattle Sounders FC to a 3-1 win over FC Dallas in the MLS regular season home finale. With the win, Seattle will finish the season as the number two or three seed and will face Real Salt Lake in the Western Conference semi-finals.

Sounders FC got on the board first when they were awarded a penalty kick in the 30th minute after Fredy Montero was taken down by Dallas defender Hernan Pertuz in the box. Evans converted the penalty low and to the right to give the home side the lead. Seattle is two for two in penalty kicks this season, as Evans converted the first on March 23 against Houston.

Dallas equalized in the 40th minute when David Ferreira's free kick was knocked down to Blas Perez in the box, and the striker finished into the back of the net for the to make the score 1-1.

Evans put Seattle up again in the 60th minute. Montero's quick restart on a free kick played to Tiffert up the left side, who then crossed to a wide-open Evans in the box for an easy score. It marks the second career multi-goal game for the 27-year-old, who scored two against Toronto on April 30, 2011.

Sounders FC extended their lead in the 79th minute when Mauro Rosales scored his third goal of the season. Eddie Johnson fed Montero on the left side of the box, who then crossed to Rosales for a sliding tap-in to make the score 3-1.

Perez's goal ended a 369-minute shutout streak for Gspurning dating back to September 22. The streak is the second longest in franchise history, just 10 minutes short of Kasey Keller's streak of 379 minutes from July 25-August 28, 2010.

Tonight's attendance was 38,755, bringing the total to 733,441 on the season, breaking last season's MLS-record of 654,466. Sounders FC supporters averaged 43,144 per game in 2012, breaking the 2011 record of 38,948 by 4,646 per game.

Evans Voted MLS Player of the Week

Seattle Sounders FC midfielder Brad Evans was voted MLS Player of the Week by the North American Soccer Reporters (NASR) for Week 33. Evans scored two goals, including the game-winner, in a 3-1 win over FC Dallas on Sunday and also filled in as defender in a scoreless draw against Real Salt Lake.

It is the first time that Evans has been voted MLS Player of the Week in his six-year career.

Evans started at right back in Seattle's midweek draw with Real Salt Lake, and filled in as center back after going a man down. Four days later, he converted a first-half penalty and then regained the lead in the second-half to lead Sounders FC to a 3-1 win against FC Dallas.

It is the fourth time this season that a Sounders FC player has been honored. David Estrada won the award in Week 2 and Eddie Johnson was honored in Week 22 and Week 27.

The MLS Player of the Week is selected each week of the regular season by a panel of journalists from NASR. The group consists of members of print, television, radio and online media.
